Sometimes when I think about this “new normal” I think about images I’ve seen from other parts of the world reflecting ‘but that is there and won’t happen here’. But here we are in a strange new world. Being in the middle of it is a strange place and I suspect this won’t go away soon if ever. But there are some things I embrace in this time. I appreciate Bill Gates reflecting that empty streets and shops do show the signs economic distress, but they also mean that most people are putting care of our neighbors above other concerns.

As the days go on we are hearing of other concerns – people who have been living on the edge now facing hunger as well as other stressors. I called to check on a young woman I am guardian for, worried that this could be a very difficult time for her, and though she is missing her friends, the center she spends most days at has reached out to let their clients know they are not forgotten with phone calls and the provision of books and other items to help them occupy their time. There are so many stories of people offering extraordinary care to others – stories that can offer inspiration for our own responses to need.

As a church family we hope each of you is staying safe and well, but trust that if you are in need you will let us know how we can support you. There is the prayer chain for some of our concerns, but if you are needing other kinds of help please contact the church office or you can connect with me via email: janiegebhardt@gmail.com. I will do my best to respond quickly.

May Easter blessings accompany each of you in this new normal!

Rev. Janie Gebhardt

The purpose of the meeting will be the presentation and approval of the budget, receipt of reports from boards, moderator, and minister, and election of board members and officers for the coming year and other issues needing consideration by the membership of the church. Please watch for details as to how this meeting will be held.

FROM THE CLEANING CREW

During this Time the Cleaning Crew has been still doing a weekly cleaning of the bathrooms also a once a week vacuum to try and keep things dust free.

GARDEN OF GRACE: May Update

Our family got the Garden back into shape.

We also planted some Daffodils, a Hyacinth, and a Poppy.

In these challenging times, people out walking especially appreciated our efforts. Lots of smiles.

In your own gardens, after the rain is a great time to weed. A stitch in time saves nine later.

The Herbs in the Garden are growing well if you need any.

A big thanks to Millcreek Gardens 801.487.4131 for their quality plants & mulch. It is good to support the locals.

Take care & be safe!

Scott, Jeanne, Jon & Ryan Hansen

MAY OUTREACH - Wasatch Community Gardens

The selected organization for Outreach donations for May is Wasatch Community Gardens. <https://wasatchgardens.org/>. The organization began in SLC in 1989 with a mission “to empower people of all ages and incomes to grow and eat healthy, organic, local food.” They believe that the quality of a community is directly related to the quality of its food. They offer garden space, educational programs, and community events to empower people to grow, harvest, preserve, and prepare fresh, healthy food through four main programs: Community Garden, Youth Garden, School Garden, and Community Education. They have one entire garden just for growing tomatoes. It is the Grateful Tomato Garden on 600 E and 800 S. They offer workshops on gardening and the produce often goes to poorer families who have learned to grow some of their own food. Workshops are open to everyone. Due to Corona Virus this spring, their workshops are on hold.

In 2020, Wasatch Community Gardens' signature Salt Lake City campus, 615 E. 800 South, will undergo an expansion that includes more gardens, a greenhouse, indoor classrooms, a kitchen, a community center, office space and — in a twist mandated by the city — an eight-unit affordable apartment complex. All combined the 1.2-acre project will cost $6.2 million, Executive Director Ashley Patterson said. In December 2019, they announced that they were in the homestretch of its fundraising, still needing to collect about $200,000 before Jan. 2. If it reached that goal, Patterson said, it would qualify for all of a $2 million matching grant available from the Alternative Visions Fund.

Public health research shows that inner city communities have poor health outcomes because of the lack of green grocers where community members can purchase fresh produce; often residents are only able to shop at convenience stores. Purchasing food at convenience stores results in high calorie, nutrient poor eating patterns resulting in obesity and other co-morbidities like diabetes and heart disease.

Wasatch Community Gardens has helped communities to establish gardens in unused blocks of the city, on school grounds, and is currently involved in a capital campaign to raise money to purchase a larger area of ground for a demonstration garden and the organization's headquarters.

Experience the Joy of Generosity!

EXPERIENCE THE JOY THAT COMES FROM GIVING, SERVING, AND GROWING IN THE LORD!

To help me grow in the joy of generosity:

My giving will be $ ____per week or $____per month or $____per year for July 2020-July 2021

To help me grow in the joy of serving and growing in the Lord:

- I commit to grow in the joy of serving by using my time and talents within the church.
- I commit to grow in the joy of knowing Jesus more by reading my Bible daily, attending church regularly and developing an active prayer life.

Did you know Mary Ann Ball Bickerdyke...

Mary Ann mostly grew up in her Grandparent Roger's home near Mansfield, Ohio. She was able to attend Oberlin College, but went home to care for relatives who were ill before she graduated. At age 29, she married Robert Bickerdyke. He had children with him at the marriage and they had four children of their own. When Robert died the youngest was a toddler.

As a widow Mary Ann, cleaned homes, did laundry, did home nursing and was known as a botanic physician. After raising her family, she began serving as a nurse during cholera epidemics in Ohio. Early during the Civil War Rev. Edward Beecher, her minister at the First (Brick) Congregational Church of Galesburg, Illinois, made an appeal for the sick and wounded Union soldiers.

One family in the church filled a large wagon with supplies. Mary Ann volunteered to go and distribute them. Church people took care of her children. The Army had little organization to take care of the sick and wounded. Mary Ann organized the medical services, nursed the soldiers and came to be called Mother Bickerdyke by the soldiers. She came to be seen as the Florence Nightingale of America.

Contrary to Ken Burn's comment in his great Civil War Series that she was a Quaker, Mary Ann was an active Congregationalist, inspired to do this by her minister and faith. She also came to be called the Patron Saint of Kansas.

Did you know Charles Sheldon...

In 1896, a series of Sunday sermons by the Rev. Charles Sheldon, pastor of First Congregational Church in Topeka, became one of the best selling novels of all time. Each sermon was a chapter in a story about the transformation of a town whose residents vowed to live by the slogan, "What Would Jesus Do?"

In His Steps imagined how different the world would be if Christians lived by the ethical teaching of Jesus. The story begins when a down and out visitor in town, whose appeals for help had been ignored by the pastor and other members, stands up in a Sunday church service and says to the congregation, “I heard you sing, All for Jesus, and your pastor preached that Christians must follow in the steps of Jesus. There is an awful lot of trouble in the world that somehow wouldn’t exist if all the people who hear such sermons and sing such songs went and lived them out.” The Pastor, deeply convicted issued a challenge to the congregation, “I want volunteers from First Church who will pledge themselves for an entire year not to attempt anything without first asking the question, ‘What would Jesus do?’”

In His Steps captured perfectly the spirit of the Social Gospel movement in this one compelling phrase. Rev. Sheldon supported the equality of the races, women’s right to vote, and the compassionate treatment of animals, because he believed that is what Jesus would do.
